

Is a meeting required to conduct the REED?

No.

However, if the REED is conducted without a meeting, there must be written documentation of:

- the evaluations and information provided by the student's parents;
- current classroom-based assessments and observations; and
- the observations by teachers and related service providers on which the determination of the need for additional data was made.